Dental Assisting Recruitment Reimbursement

1. Any current practicing dental professional in North Dakota or a dental professional affiliated with an accredited teaching program is eligible to receive an honorarium for presentations made at high schools or job fairs if approved by the BFID committee. The target audience are those interested in any dental profession as a career and not currently working in dentistry. The presenter should distribute the Bright Futures in Dentistry documents, and/or information about CODA-accredited ND schools at the event and be knowledgeable about the grant and goals. The honorarium will be $100 for any event up to a half-day in length, and $200 for an all-day event or job fair. Other expenses such as mileage, hotel, and meals may be reimbursed if approved by the committee as well. A narrative that includes the size of the audience, the presentation made and contact info for that school or sponsoring organization must be submitted to the BFID committee prior to the expenses and honorarium being paid.
2. Any current practicing dental professional in North Dakota or dental professional affiliated with an accredited teaching program is eligible to receive reimbursement for presenting a face-to-face clinical review course in preparation for DANB certification. The amount of reimbursement will be determined by the Bright Futures in Dentistry Committee on a case-by-case basis pending a narrative description of the course by the presenter and size of the audience.
